Findings for Question:

This question was asked to all 18 test persons. All respondents can assign themselves to a corresponding highest vocational training qualification or university degree on the basis of the list. Four test persons (TP 05, 08, 09, 10) experienced different difficulties in answering the question:

Test person 05 has problems to find her correct education degree in the list. The test person has attended a private language school for three years. At the beginning she tends to mistakenly assign herself to category 3 (vocational school education). At the interviewer's request, she finally correctly chooses category 12 (another vocational qualification).

Test person 08 also has difficulties finding her highest vocational training or university degree in the list: "Not included. I am a specialist nurse in intensive care medicine and anesthesia. That would be regular point no. 5. For three years you become a normal nurse. And then you study for two more years to do the specialty training. It is also state-approved." Test person 08 finally decides to only indicate the training to become a "normal nurse" and finally assigns her highest vocational training qualification to the value 5 (vocational or specialist academy, dual university or school of health care (2-3 years old) completed): "I would then have indicated the 5 and would have embezzled the additional training" (TP 08). Accordingly, the test person does not see corresponding additional vocational qualifications covered in the list. According to the test person, category 12 (another vocational qualification) is not suitable for her.

The test persons 09 and 10 also criticize the submitted list. Test person 09 has difdifficulties in identifying which of the options represents "classical vocational training". Based on a question from the test director, the test person finally opted for category 2 (vocational training (apprenticeship) completed) and thus correctly assigned herself to the category corresponding to her training. Test person 10 states that she "even has the second state examination", but that this option is not explicitly mentioned in the list, yet she correctly classifies herself in category 9 (university degree: diploma, "Magister", state examination or master's degree).

Recommendations:

Question: No changes recommended.

Answer options: We recommend for those answer categories for which additional qualifications are possible (e.g. vocational or specialist academy or second state examination) to expand the corresponding options in order to prevent respondents from choosing an answer option that does not adequately reflect their professional qualification.

In order to enable a correct allocation of unclear cases, e.g. nurses (category 5: vocational or specialist academy, dual university or school of health care (2-3 years) completed) with a 2-year additional training as a specialist nurse (category 12: another vocational qualification), a half-open answer category should be offered:

"Another professional qualification, namely _____ [Einen anderen beruflichen Abschluss, und zwar _____]"

Similarly, category 11 (a foreign vocational qualification) could also be adapted:

"A foreign vocational qualification, namely _____ [Einen ausländischen beruflichen Abschluss, und zwar _____]"
